

Atlas Snap Ties

Atlas snap ties are stocked in even wall sizes from 6" to 24". Cones have a 1" diameter at the plywood face and 1" break-back below the concrete surface. Standard snap-ties come in four end dimensions; 1-1/4", 1-5/8", 4-3/4", and 8-1/4". (Note: To calculate the correct end dimension, add total lumber thickness plus 1/2" extra for the form bracket.)

COMBINATION END SNAP TIES

Used for different forming methods on each side of the wall.

TIP-TO-TIP SNAP TIES

This is a standard snap tie with no spreader and no breakback. Typically used where the tie is not embedded in the concrete. Applications include external ties for small columns, top ties or corner ties for wall forms.

NEOPRENE WATER SEAL SNAP TIES

Water seal ties are available with a neoprene washer in the center to inhibit the flow of water along the tie shaft.

NO-CONE BREAKBACK SNAP TIES

A no-cone tie is typically used for those applications where a spreader is not necessary, but the end needs to be broken off.

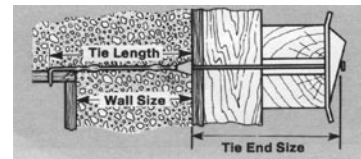

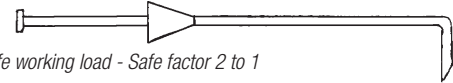

Plastic Snap Tie Cones

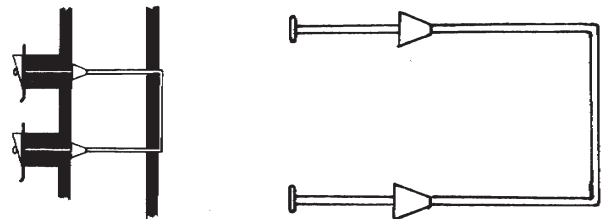

SPANDREL SNAP TIES

Spandrel ties hold the outside top end of concrete beam forms. One end is bent 90° and a chisel point is cut on the wire. This end is driven through the form deck and into the joists. Good practice dictates driving a 1-1/4" fence staple over the tie within 1" of the bend.

BLIND WALL SNAP TIES

The Blind wall tie is used in forming applications where one side of the form is not accessible. In this case, the form panel on the blind side is not recoverable.

*Extra Engineering or Bracing may be required when using Blind Wall Snap Ties.
